- Be familiar with a wide range of (age related) books, including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage and books from other cultures and traditions. (8)
- Recommend books read to their peers, giving relevant and appropriate reasons for choices. (9)
- Explain how the structural choices support the writer's theme or purpose (e.g. in fiction, decisions about plot structure, character development, or flashbacks/forwards. In non-fiction, looking at how a writer organises information so that the reader can compare and contrast ideas (e.g. first and last paragraph linkage)* (10)
- Using the text as evidence, give similarities and differences between given aspects – and represent the information in different ways (tables, Venn diagram, lists etc)* (11)
- Identify a time sequence in a complex texts with time shifts (e.g. flashbacks, fast forward etc)* (12)
- Prepare poems and plays to confidently read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone and volume so that the meaning is clear to an audience. (13)
- Check that the (age related) book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context. (14)
- Ask relevant and targeted questions to improve their understanding of specific points and vocabulary. (15)
- Read with fluency and accuracy, paying close attention to all taught punctuation. (16)
- Decide on the quality and usefulness of a text when researching and justify decisions to others.* (17)
- Identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning. (18)
- Identify devices that contribute to levels of formality. (19)
- Distinguish accurately between statements of fact and opinion. (20)
- Retrieve, record, synthesise and skilfully present relevant information from research, including leaflets, programmes, IT texts and reviews.* (21)
- Recognise writer intention by the words the author uses (sarcasm, mockery, irony), considering the impact on the reader.* (22)
- Relate text to their social, cultural and historical context and literary traditions, identifying the effect on the reader. (23)
- Explain, justify and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes where necessary. (24)
- identify and discuss the effectiveness of cohesive device used across a text (e.g. a word or grammatical structure that signals a link between ideas within and across clauses, sentences and paragraphs)* (25)

These objectives link to the Trust Comprehension Curriculum.*

This Reading Long Term Plan contains a variety of core texts and linked texts suitable for Year 6. The texts include rich, high-quality whole novels or extracts from these, picture books, poetry, songs and whole non-fiction texts or extracts from these. Class novels can be selected from the choice of texts available. The specified linked texts are options linked to the specific genres and can be adapted and added to suit the needs of the class or to link to other curriculum areas. There are also additional whole text options for our 'We Love to Read' time which are read to the children. The six core texts that link to our school values must be read over the course of the year. The options of fiction, non-fiction and poetry books can be selected from and added to by the teacher, including re-reading books from previous year groups that the children have enjoyed. Teachers may also select from these texts during our Friday Class Book Vote.
